PLATELET-RICH PLASMA (PRP) THERAPY

Platelet-Rich Plasma (PRP) therapy is an innovative procedure that uses the patient's own blood to rejuvenate the skin or stimulate hair growth. This method helps to activate skin rejuvenation, enhancing skin elasticity and reducing signs of ageing.

Purpose of procedure:

- Rejuvenation: PRP therapy stimulates collagen production, promoting skin regeneration and rejuvenation.
- Hair strengthening: It improves hair quality and helps prevent hair loss.
- Customised treatment: Each procedure is tailored to individual needs and skin type.

BIOSTIMULATION HP CELL VITARAN

HP Cell Vitaran is a biostimulating injectable that contains 2% polynucleotides – highly purified DNA fragments derived from trout DNA. Polynucleotides are natural molecules composed of nucleotide chains and play a crucial role in skin regeneration. Vitaran works to rejuvenate and restore the skin at the cellular level, enhancing its elasticity, hydration and overall texture. Thanks to its anti-inflammatory properties, Vitaran helps reduce skin inflammation and protects against the harmful effects of free radicals. This treatment is commonly used to improve the skin quality on the face, neck, décolletage and hands, and can also help reduce dark circles under the eyes and fine wrinkles around the eyes. For optimal results, 2–3 treatments at 3–4-week intervals are typically recommended.

Radiesse is a calcium hydroxyapatite-based filler and biostimulating treatment that restores skin volume, improves texture and stimulates collagen production. Its unique formulation provides an immediate lifting effect, while the biostimulating properties work over the long term to strengthen the structure and elasticity of the skin. Radiesse is ideal for rejuvenating the face, neck and hands, reducing wrinkles, restoring lost volume and enhancing natural contours. The results are visible immediately after the procedure and typically last 12 to 18 months, providing a naturally youthful and harmonious appearance. Radiesse is an excellent choice for those seeking an effective, long-term solution to combat signs of aging.

HYALURONIDASE

Hyaluronidase is an enzyme used to dissolve hyaluronic acid-based fillers. This procedure is indicated in cases of filler migration, over-injection or when the effect of the filler needs to be reduced. Hyaluronidase works rapidly and efficiently to break down excess hyaluronic acid, restoring the skin's natural appearance. This procedure is also effective in addressing complications such as lumpy or uneven fillers.

Purpose of procedure:

- Rapid and efficient filler dissolution
- Restoration of natural appearance
- Correction of misplaced or over-injected fillers
